Scholar’s Biography: J. Devika

Linda Ham, 559L

Citation:

Author affiliation: Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram, India

Website: http://www.cds.edu/php/facultyProfile.php?categoryId=167&Level=0

About the author and her publications: J. Devika is currently an Associate Professor at the Centre for Development Studies in Thiruvananthapuram, India. Devika has published books in both Malayalam (the official language of Kerala, India) and English as well as numerous journal articles. Her research focuses on gender and feminist politics in the geographical and cultural context of Kerala, India. Under “Professional Achievements”, the author lists her involvement with Women’s Studies at the University of Calicut, Kerala, India, Women’s Imprint (the first women’s publishing house in Malayalam), and the Stories Project, in Anveshi, Hyderabad, India.

There are no links from the author’s web page to any of her publications online. In fact, the author’s web page has not been updated to reflect her most current research—her most recent publications are from 2007 with 2008 works listed as forthcoming. I did, however, find an archived version online through the Centre for the Study of Culture and Society (http://www.cscsarchive.org/).